

Application deadline: November 3, 2017

10 doctoral fellowships in the a.r.t.e.s. EUmanities programme

a.r.t.e.s. EUmanities is a pioneering programme of the a.r.t.e.s. Graduate School for the Humanities Cologne for establishing a European Graduate School for the Humanities. Starting in April 2018, a.r.t.e.s. EUmanities will provide 10 Early Stage Researcher (ESR) fellowships, training young scholars to excel in research and cope with the global challenges Europe is facing.

The ESR fellowships will have a duration of 36 months per person. The ESRs will be employed full-time (living allowance 3,073 EUR less tax deductions and employer's contribution to social insurance plus mobility, travel and optional family allowances) and will be enrolled in the structured doctoral model "Integrated Track" of the a.r.t.e.s. Graduate School. ESRs may apply for:

- a.r.t.e.s. EU if they suggest the a.r.t.e.s. Graduate School as their host institution and a European partner university for the mandatory mobility phase (12 months).
- a.r.t.e.s. global if they propose a research project outside Europe suggesting a global host institution of their choice for the mandatory mobility phase (at least 18 months).

a.r.t.e.s. EUmanities is co-funded by the University of Cologne and the European Union (Horizon 2020: Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions).

For eligibility criteria and application requirements please visit www.artes.uni-koeln.de or contact artes-EUmanities@uni-koeln.de.